DENNIS CORBETT NAMED AS CITY'S CHIEF BUILDING OFFICIAL

Pleasanton, CA— Dennis Corbett was recently named as Chief Building Official for the City of Pleasanton, where he has served in a variety of capacities since 2008.

Planning and Building divisions are essential services offered in any local government and Pleasanton is no exception. The Chief Building Official manages the Building Division within the Community Development Department and is responsible for providing plan reviews and field inspections on all structures within City limits to ensure that all buildings are safe, accessible and sustainable, as well as in compliance with local and state laws.

Corbett has an extensive background in the building and construction area and has worked in and around the Bay Area for the better part of the past two decades.

“Coming from a background of construction, I know the effort it takes to build a project and build it well from the ground up,” said Corbett, adding “and I take great pride in helping people make their construction projects a reality,” he concluded.

Corbett replaces George Thomas, who retired as Chief Building Official in June of this year.
