GET BACK TO YOUR PLEASANTON ROOTS

Celebrate Your Hometown History at Alviso Adobe

PLEASANTON, Calif. — The City of Pleasanton will host its first Pleasanton Roots Festival at Alviso Adobe Community Park on Saturday, June 11 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. The public is invited to this free event located at 3465 Old Foothill Road. This event is also made possible by Primitive Ways.

We will be featuring activity stations and presentations from two of the park's time periods: the Ohlone and Californio. Alviso Adobe Community Park is excited to feature demonstrations by the experts at Primitive Ways. The event will kick-off with the Native Four Directions Blessing. Primitive Ways will then be leading our guests through the Ohlone time period with demonstrations such as cordage, acorn soup making, fire making, flint knapping, Ohlone games and atlatl throwing.

Other activities will include Ohlone jewelry making, Native Ohlone games, adobe brick making, candle making, and horse and cow roping. Food and beverages will be available for purchase at the event.
